Krakow Women's Comber
February 8 – March 1, 2025
Krzysztofory Palace, Main Square 35

Originating in the Middle Ages, this once extremely popular carnival tradition of the market women from Kraków's suburbs was celebrated for centuries during the Shrovetide period. During this time, the female vendors would symbolically take control of the city and organize a feast on Kraków's Main Square, filled with food, wine, music, and dancing. They would "kidnap" men on the streets, compelling them to join the festivities or buy their freedom with a gift.

The main theme of the third edition of this event is Woman as a River. Through a series of traditional singing and dancing workshops, culminating in an open Śpiewogranie (Song Gathering) at Stary Kleparz, participants will explore the connections between the significance of this celebration for both historical and contemporary residents of Kraków. The program also includes a lecture by Dr. Andrzej Szoka. The event will conclude on March 1 with a colorful parade from Stary Kleparz (starting at 2:00 PM), passing through Szczepański Square to the Main Square, where an outdoor dance party will take place.

Ladies, Intellectuals, and Rebels – Women of Podgórze – City Walk

March 1, 2025, 11:00 AM

Podgórze Market Square, in front of St. Joseph's Church

It's impossible to tell the story of a city without learning about both its residents and its women. We invite you to join a walk through the well-known corners of Podgórze and discover the untold stories of the women who lived on the right bank of the Vistula. Some of them are well-documented, while of others, only names or brief mentions remain.

Together, we'll visit former girls' schools and learn about the first female teachers, as well as the brave young women who went to great lengths to gain an education. We'll meet the grand ladies of Podgórze, the first female writers and a photographer, and we'll also take a glimpse into the darker, working-class world.

Michał Bajor

March 16, 2025, 6:00 PM

ICE Kraków Congress Centre, ul. Konopnickiej 17

An artist who celebrated fifty years of artistic work, Michał Bajor is, in a sense, debuting by fully presenting his original compositions to his listeners. Initially, the idea for the album was to re-record, with new arrangements, songs he had performed long ago, at the request of his audience over the years. There was also supposed to be one song with music composed by Michał. However, he ended up composing five pieces!

For the first time, he also took on the role of a lyricist – three songs were written by him. Additionally, he created music for lyrics by Wojciech Młynarski and composed a piece for lyrics written by Artur Andrus. The album also features two beautiful duets with Irena Santor and Kayah, a group of wonderful musicians including the Grupa MoCarta, and, as always, an immense dose of emotion.

While traces of women can be found all over the city, this time we will limit our walk to the Old Town. Our participants will hear stories about the most famous female heroines of Kraków. Although our guide will be Princess Wanda, we will also learn about the lives of other women – rulers, students, artists, and muses. Additionally, along the route, special cards with puzzles and tasks await us, turning an ordinary walk into a true family adventure. The walk is designed for families with children aged 7-12 years.

Kult Acoustic 2025

March 23, 2025, 7:00 PM

ICE Kraków Congress Centre, Konopnickiej 17

KULT was founded over 40 years ago in Warsaw. Its founders are vocalist (and later also saxophonist) Kazik Staszewski and bassist Piotr Wieteska. The first lineup was completed by guitarist Tadeusz Bagan and drummer Darek Gierszewski. The band made its debut on stage on July 7, 1982, at the Warsaw club Remont. Since that moment, the group has maintained its popularity, constantly touring and releasing new albums.

For years, a regular part of the band's concert schedule has been the Kult Akustik tour, which takes place in the first half of the year. Covering several of the biggest Polish cities, the "unplugged" concert cycle has become a true tradition, celebrated annually by tens of thousands of fans across the country.

"Krakowianki – Women Artists of the Turn of the 19th and 20th Century and Their Emancipation"

March 27, 2025, at 6:00 PM

Rydlówka, Włodzimierza Tetmajera 28

This event is part of the "Month of Krakow Women."

In Paris at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries, there were 160 Polish women among the many aspiring artists. Many of them remain unknown, while some are only familiar to a small group of researchers. The biographies of those who are better known—such as Olga Boznańska, Aniela Pająkówna, and Maria Dulębianka—are sometimes oversimplified. This lecture will offer an opportunity to explore the efforts of women to receive artistic education, their demands for equal treatment with their male counterparts, and the respect for their achievements, as well as the challenge of avoiding the label of "women's art."

The event will also be streamed live on Rydlówka's Facebook page.
